END OF TAX YEAR

April is swiftly approaching, heralding the impending arrival of SA-100 tax returns season! As the workload surges, it becomes imperative to familiarize ourselves with the pivotal dates for year-end tasks. Specific deadlines loom for issuing and submitting forms, adherence to which is vital to maintain compliance and evade penalties from HMRC. Furthermore, this juncture offers an opportune moment to ensure our awareness of any recent tax legislation amendments.

Consistently, our guiding principle at Jon Shatford Business Support Services remains unchanged: commence preparations early and navigating the end of tax year becomes markedly smoother.

Additionally, it's prudent to contemplate potential changes for the upcoming year. Consider exploring opportunities such as outsourcing your accounts or other facets of your business, particularly if it's in a better position compared to last year.

QUICKBOOKS SUBSCRIPTIONS

Aligned with the dawn of the new tax year, perhaps it's worth considering the implementation of accounting software for your business. Would you be interested in exploring the possibility of adopting a new accounting software solution or transitioning to a different one? We're pleased to offer QuickBooks subscriptions at a significantly reduced rate, priced at half the cost compared to purchasing directly from QuickBooks. This exclusive offer extends to all, irrespective of whether you're an existing client or not. Typically priced at £24 + VAT, our subscription now stands at just £12 + VAT for a 4-year period.
